A peaceful and happy world

Dear Lisa,

The world that I want to live in is a world that is filled with people who would know how to accept and respect life. I felt considerably happy when I saw the world continuing to survive. The thing that I would to see is for the world to change in able to stop everything that would hurt the planet. I want the world to practice love and honesty. I want the world to have peace and equality, for the reason that I want to make people change too. I want to have a safe city. In the future I want many things to happen, I hope people get what they deserve. I want them to realize that everything they've done is worth it. In the future, I want people to explore and discover many things. I want people to have great imagination. I want people to live in the world they want. Lisa, I hope people don't get lonely. I hope people will feel free too. Lisa, the world I want to really live in is a world that has my family being happy together. I want a world that is truly happy because I want great things to happen to my family and the world. I'm able to love my family and the world because I'm able to love myself.

A quiet and beautiful world

Dear Lisa,

A question had come to me and asked: “What kind of world would I like to live in?” and I never thought how hard it would be to answer. The question is deep, but perhaps many would answer it simply, but me? I seek an answer that would help me know about myself too, what kind of world I would like to live in? My reality, my world right now, has some pieces of the puzzle that answers what kind of world I want to live into. My family, my friends, pets and things that remind me of graceful memories that I would love to bring with me in the world I’m dreaming to live in, while this present world I have right now may not be the answer. Oh, it’s great and beautiful but the only thing that keeps me going in this world I never asked to walk into is my loved ones, which I don’t even know if it’s worth risking my all in them. I don’t know if you could help me but I know you’re the only one I could write to, who else would I do? Anyway, if I’m being honest, the kind of world I would like to live in is perhaps somewhere peaceful but not lonely, wild but not in chaos, and a place filled with truths and not covered by lies.

A place private, unknown but known to me. Somewhere I’m free to be me and no eyes around me but my loved ones. You Lisa, my good friend, I’ll welcome you to the world I would love to live in which is my imagination all along but still, if that world exists, you are greatly welcome and few others I have in mind are too.

I think if I were to summarize my answer in a few words I'd just say somewhere quiet and beautiful. I hope this letter will reach you and if it does, I hope for a reply. 😊
The world I want to live in may just be in my mind but who knows? Maybe in the future it would exist.
P.S. I'm looking forward to seeing what the future world will give us, together with you, my friend.

A world without hate

Dear Lisa,
Hello! A question popped into my mind when I was staring at the sky: "What is the kind of world I'd like to live in?". This question seemed to be difficult for me but I thought about it quite a lot of time 😊
I want you to know what kind of world I'd like to live in because you're my friend 😊
I want to live in a world where everybody feels safe to express their true selves without fearing being judged. I want a world where there is no hate and discrimination. It would be nice living in a world where you can be yourself freely and everybody is treated equally. I want to live in a world where the environment is clean and safe for all living things. A world where people help each other, treat each other equally, and spread love is the kind of world I want to be in. Joy and dreams overflow the world's atmosphere, love to protect, and hope to keep the world happy.

I want to live in a world where everyone is happy. Lisa, that's the kind of world I want to live in, what about yours? I'm glad to have someone I can share my thoughts with. I'm so happy to have you as my friend. I am looking forward on seeing you soon 😊
I would like to add something about the kind of world I desire, all the things I've said about the kind of world I'd like to live in are not impossible… Right? They aren't, maybe just a little unity and more love, then the world I dream of could come true. 😊

A helpful fairy world

Dear Lisa,
I want the world to be clean and beautiful.
I would like the people to know how to discipline themselves and how to throw their garbage properly.
I want my world to be clean and beautiful.
I want to live in a clean place.
I want to help the poor people.
I want to travel everyday. I want to know the people's secrets.
I want people to be healthy and strong.
I want to have a better future.
I want to show the way I am.
I want to ride an airplane.

I want to have a big house.
I hope people will help each other whatever it takes.
I really like to help people. I am happy to have a nice family.
I want to be like a fairy in my features. I know fairies don't exist.

A cleaner world

Dear Lisa,
I want the world to be happy and I want my family to be safe. I also want to be a businesswoman, so that my family will be happy for everything and also the world will be clean, where people are not gonna throw plastic and paper in the world or in the sea or in the grasses or in the car or van. And I want to be safe when I will be at my work or at my house. God will be happy that we are keeping the Earth clean and we will be happy.

The world a better place

Dear Lisa,
Hello! How are you? Is life treating you ok or not? By the way, I have a question to ask you about our world. From what I have seen today, I think our world is not what we think as before anymore because of the changes of the world. I think you can also see what, right? Lisa, I am wondering what will happen if people do not stop making plastic things. Maybe the ocean will be as clean as what we both imagine right, the beautiful places that have no plastic, only the beautiful places, the wonderful animals that we want to see. Lisa, do you think we can still fix this shit? Maybe if we start doing our work, maybe it won't be too late to clean our beautiful world that we are living now and for the future. Lisa, I hope you are doing great there in your country and having fun with the people who are always there to help you and support you in what you are doing. Lisa, I am hoping to meet you in the near future. If I can meet you sooner than that it would be better because we could spend more time together and do things that we want in the future. By the way, Lisa, I want to live in a place that has many flowers and a peaceful place to live. I am looking forward to what you are thinking of our world and to the plan you are thinking of doing to make the world a better place.

Yours truly,

Rosalina

A safer world

Dear Lisa,

I would like a world that is cleaner than today and much better than yesterday and everytime I pass by the dump side I want it to be clean and tidy and also fragrant. And a world that has no pollution on the air, water, everywhere and a world without bad people 😊 and a world without toxic people 💀 and a world with beautiful sceneries and a world with rare creatures, animals, insects. And a world with a better community and an environment that is healthy and green. Have a nice day and stay safe.
Sincerely,

Diana

A kind people world

Dear Lisa,
I'd like the world to be clean and beautiful. I want people to help each other and to be kind and not smoke. I want the other people to live better. I want people to live with water because some people don't have water. I don't want them to suffer. I want people to be kind in order to have a better world.

A happy people world

Dear Lisa,

I want the world to be clean, I want my life to be happy and I want to be a businesswoman and my family will be happy forever and people will live to be healthy and to be happy and other people will not throw plastic, paper or boxes everywhere and the Earth will be happy forever and ever. And God will be happy that we are doing great today and the Earth will do well or clean, always clean in the world or Earth and we will be happy and safe and clean, and you also must clean. Tell it to everyone, and be safe, safe always. ♡♡ oh oh…

A free world

Dear Lisa,
my friend, upon realizing that this world of ours is not the world I wanted to live in, it makes me crazy or drives me crazy. If I could choose my own world, where I would be happy and satisfied with, is that no dirty fights like dirty politics, well, you know that I hate it here in my country, because people are fighting for money and property. I'm gonna explain where or which world, I mean what kind of world I would love to live in is that one full of peace and people who don't make their pride big and high and Lisa, I want you to live in a world like this too.
A world where people are happy and don't suffer from hunger and have a good leader who leads correctly, which means his words are not only words. But also doing his actions to prove he is a good leader to everyone.

Not to judge my own country but to be honest, this world I'm living in is killing me, why? Because people are not in peace, it looks like someone is controlling them and they don't have freedom. They also take the lives of people.
I wish one day I can make this world better, just like the world I wanted for people and for me.

Pamela

A "nice" world

Dear Lisa,
I've been living in this world for 17 years and yet I still haven't really found my happiness, it's probably because of this world... Just kidding, it is probably because of the people! LOL
I want to live in a world so clean but not clean and boring , just you know, clean with "nice", funny and UNDERSTANDING people. A world where there's no discrimination and all that but, of course, that's merely impossible. Did (or do) you live in a "nice" world? If you did or do, damn I wish I could. This world I live in is actually not that bad. It's pretty nice. I just live in it in a "wrong way". I will "soon" live my best and good, now adios my friend.

Xoxo, Alexa

An “equal” world

Dear Lisa,
Have you ever heard the word “EQUALITY”?
I guess you do 😊 well, if you are the type of person who really loves to go outside and room around, you would actually understand what I want you to learn at the very first thing once you read the word “equality”.
Everyday it is a challenge to everyone living in this world. Waking up is the very first thing.
A lot of people face different challenges, especially when it comes to humanity, bullying, criticism, femininity, masculinity, etc.
It’s been hard for those people since everyday they face that challenge and the hope and prayers that they would want is to “STOP IT”. Some of them find it hard to let it go. But there are some people like that, I mean they behave like other people are not people and think of them as slaves.
How I wish not only 50% of humanity knows or have equality, but I hope that it could go to a 100%, then people wouldn’t suffer anymore.
Let me know what you think, I’ll be waiting for your reply.
Love,

Paola

A respectful world

Dear Lisa,

We exist as human beings. We do things in our own ways. We simply exist to live, to be who we are and what we are. We have different personalities and characteristics we live on. We cannot force people to do what they don't want or what they are not. We have to accept the fact that that's who they are. We have to respect, love and care for them as long as they are with us. Don't give up on them when they change. That is how the world is like, what we can see in our world, now as from the past, it really changed. We see a lot of garbage everywhere. We can change that, if we work together. Buildings are getting much larger than trees. We cut trees without replacing them. We should be replacing them without hesitation, we live because of them. I cannot do it alone, so help me!!

Think of the consequences before doing it. Because we are just going to regret it in the end because we cannot do anything about it anymore. I myself don't like the feeling of regret. Because I keep regretting the choices that I made before. We need to think carefully of what we are going to do or choose. Just be who you are and probably not everything will be alright, but at least some. We are unique in our own way. We must love ourselves to love others. We can do it, if we help each other.
